

Abeml™ Licensing FAQ

Do I retain ownership of my code?

Yes.

You retain ownership of all software and other works you create using Abeml™.

Can I sell software built with Abeml™?

Yes. Commercial sale, licensing, and distribution of software built with Abeml™ are permitted.

Can I deploy Abe™ applications without runtime royalties?

Yes, for the Free Runtime (the Level-1 runtime that ships with the free abepro™ edition). E-Tools does not charge runtime royalties, deployment fees, per-user fees, or per-installation fees for it. The Full Runtime (Level 1 + 2 / ML) is different: it is commercial, ships only with the abeml™ edition, and is governed by the EULA — see below.

Can I redistribute the Abe™ Runtime royalty-free with my application?

The Free Runtime, yes: applications may be distributed together with it in accordance with the Abe™ Runtime Redistribution License (static or dynamic linking). The Full Runtime (the ML runtime) is not covered by the ARRL — it is not free, is not available outside abeml, and may only travel embedded in applications you build with abeml™, under the EULA.

Do I need a paid license to use Abeml™ commercially?

Yes.

Commercial use of the Abeml™ compiler requires a valid commercial license unless otherwise authorized by E-Tools.
